

HOW MANY PEDALS HAVE YOU BOUGHT? HOW MANY DO YOU ACTUALLY USE?

At Keeley Electronics, we build inspiring tools that experienced guitar players actually use. We know this because every day we hear how one of our pedals has earned a permanent spot in a guitarist's rig, and we understand that is precious real estate, indeed.

First and foremost, the effects we design and build must be musical – especially our overdrive and distortion pedals! They must also be capable of simply expanding your creative consciousness with the versatile sounds, colors, and emotions they encourage you to create with a guitar and amplifier.

Designing and building such inspiring effects is hardly so simple, but we believe finding them should be.

"You play the guitar. We'll build the gear."
