Premier Guitar[™] unveils proprietary video instruction resource, Premier Clinic, powered by TrueFire

Premier Guitar* and TrueFire partner to provide guitar players with free interactive video guitar instruction

CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA (April 26, 2007) – Guitar enthusiasts visiting Premier Guitar's[™] Web site, www.premierguitar.com, now have free access to Premier Clinic, an interactive video learning system and multi-track curriculum, powered by TrueFire (www.truefire.com), the leaders in online guitar education.

"Premier Clinic is a fantastic new resource for the thousands of guitar players that frequent PremierGuitar.com on a daily basis. TrueFire's world class educators lead players through a proven regimen and curriculum to help them develop better rhythm, soloing and improvisational skills," said Peter Sprague, managing member of Gearhead Communications, publishers of Premier Guitar and owners of Premier Guitar[™] Shows. "Premier Clinic will provide our community of players with yet another advantage in their 'relentless pursuit of tone'."

Premier Clinic's curriculum is crafted from TrueFire's library of over 3,500 interactive video lessons which span blues, rock, jazz, twang, fingerstyle and special techniques. Video lessons are supported with downloadable practice rhythm tracks, notation and Power Tab. A proprietary lesson player delivers a multimedia learning experience.

"Premier Guitar readers and Web site visitors are demanding gear heads and discriminating players. We needed to structure a multi-track curriculum that covered a variety of styles and techniques designed for intermediate, advanced and pro players," said Brad Wendkos, founder and president of TrueFire. "The Premier Clinic lesson console was likewise optimized to accelerate the learning process for this level of player with a variety of lesson assets and handy controls."

Premier Clinic can be accessed anytime from the home page of Premier Guitar's Web site, www.premierguitar.com. Premier Clinic is the latest free offering from Premier Guitar joining free Web editions, podcasts, Web exclusives, forums and Gear Search.
